

Bonallack & Bishop Solicitors

Press Release

FREE WILLS FOR THE OVER-75s Week

12-17th January 2009

Bonallack & Bishop Solicitors in Salisbury are pleased to announce that from 12-17th January, they will be offering anybody over 75 years' old the chance to have a will drawn up by one of their solicitors at their Salisbury branch, totally free of charge.

Gill Bassett, Wills and Probate Solicitor at the firm, says, 'It is surprising how many people don't have a valid will, and don't appreciate the importance of making one. Dying intestate (i.e. without a will) makes life a lot more complicated for your family, and your estate may not be distributed as you would have wished.'

Tim Bishop, senior partner at Bonallack & Bishop, comments, "Arguments about how to distribute money and property after a loved one dies are sadly becoming increasingly common. Having no will, or an invalid or out-of-date will often results in huge distress for those left behind. By offering a free will to anyone aged 75 or over, we hope to provide peace of mind to those in their autumn years."

If the week is successful, they hope to repeat it in their Andover and Amesbury offices in the near future.

Bonallack & Bishop also offer free Wills and Deeds storage in their fire-proof vaults.

The offer applies to straightforward wills only, and appointments must be made. Please contact Gill Bassett on gill.bassett@bishopsllaw.com or 01722 422480 for more information or to book an appointment.

END