PRESS RELEASE
5TH JANUARY 2009

FREE SEMINAR – THE RECESSION BUSTER

Bonallack and Bishop are very excited to announce their next Free Seminar - the Recession Buster. This is planned for Monday 19th January and will be full of useful, practical tips on how not only to survive the current economic climate, but come out on top.

Tim Bishop, senior partner at the Salisbury-based law firm, comments, "Although some people still seem reluctant to accept it, the economic downturn will be severe, long-lasting and will simply destroy many unprepared firms. However, those firms who take radical action quickly are the most likely to survive and many may, in fact, be able to use the opportunity to grow at the expense of their ill-prepared competitors. As a firm we are taking the time to compile, with the help of business partners and colleagues, a lengthy list of practical tips to help your business fight the downturn and win. I honestly believe it is the most important seminar we have ever run. If you attend only one seminar in 2009, make it this one."

The seminar will be run in association with Bartercard and is supported by Business Link Southwest.

Following the presentation, refreshments will be served, offering attendees a chance to network.

Date: Monday 19th January 2009
Time: 5.30-7.30pm
Venue: Grasmere Hotel, 70 Harnham Road, Salisbury, SP2 8JN
Refreshments: Wine and soft drinks will be served at the end of the event
